

STREET ART

Street art includes different forms of art in public. In normal cases the pieces of artwork are supposed to stay where they have been created. In contrast to simple graffiti, street art is made to show the beautiful street sections. It's designed to make the observer sensible to small details.

The first known street art works were made in Mexico in 1920 by Diego Riveira.

Gérard Zlotykamien was the first artist who worked in public. He is known as the forefather of street art.

Famous artists are Keith Haring, Harald Naegeli, Blek le Rat and Miss. Tic.

STREET ART

The picture of the straws was taken in Herford. You can find it on the way to school. This was built during the street art project in Herford. Many people drink with a straw and in Herford the straws are in a tree.

The picture of the horse on the wall was taken in Warendorf, a small town near Herford. Warendorf is the city of horses and so there are many all over the town. It is a very interesting concept because this kind of street art is not really popular.

“Warendorf is a small town near Herford. Everywhere in this town there is a model of a horse, sometimes on the wall and sometimes in the street, all this in many different colours.” Rebeka

This picture was taken at Kesselbrink, a public place in Bielefeld, it shows a skater

“Most skaters can meet in Bielefeld. There is a popular place to ride a skateboard or to meet.”

The next picture was taken in Herford, in the picture is a policeman was draw after a pattern. The policeman, a part of a street art project in Herford.

“The policeman on the wall looks as if he would control the aircraft up above. He looks very serious and concentrated on his work. The mural comes from an inspired artist, Banksy from Britain. He has become active in Germany, Italy, Jamaica, Cuba and other countries.”
